Presentation Details

I would like to make known what I witnessed in November when I was once again in the West Bank. Not only is the catastrophe in Gaza, but it spills over to the West Bank making life even more difficult and oppressive. I have also been encouraged by meeting Israelis coming to villages to stand alongside Palestinians. Nassar, whom I know from the village of Susiya, put it this way: "The story of our village is not a story of Jews against Muslims, or even a story of Israelis against Palestinians. We're grateful for the many messages of support our village has received from Jewish communities around the world, and the groups and activists working by our side include many Israelis. This is simply a story of justice and equality against dispossession and oppression."
